

By George, we've got an International School Award!

Sherston School has won a prestigious award for helping pupils become 'global citizens'.

Broadcaster and journalist George Alagiah presented deputy head teacher Debby Liddle with the highest level of the International School Award at a ceremony in London last month.

The award recognised the hard work done by pupils and staff to achieve seven international projects in one year, including links with Australia, the Gambia and Kenya.

'We believe international links bring a vitally important dimension to the education of our young people,' said Martin Davidson, chief executive of award sponsors the British Council.

'These links ensure our youngsters build the skills and understanding to become global citizens ready and able to take their place in the world.

'And I'm delighted so many schools, local authorities and individual teachers agree with us.'

Sherston was one of 585 schools to pick up their awards on the day.

Debby Liddle will shortly set up a display in the school entrance for us to marvel at.

Did she get a chance to talk to George Alagiah?

'He did his best to speak to everyone and to make everyone feel involved and his speech was very good,' she replied.

Victory for bus lobby

The elderly and disabled of North End Gardens have at last got their bus back.

Two years ago, when Carriers Close was being developed on Sandpits Lane, the no 41 Malmesbury to Yate bus stopped calling at North End Gardens as the road was often blocked by construction traffic.

Following the completion of Carriers Close, it was expected the service would return. When this did not happen, residents and the parish council lobbied County Hall.

'The service was particularly important for the elderly and disabled people living in that part of the village,' said parish councillor Cilla Liddington.

'Now, however, the pressure we applied has worked and the service to North End Gardens will return from 2 November.'

A leaflet with full details is available from Sherston Post Office Stores.

So far so good

The first edition of The Sherston Cliffhanger in October was well received. Thank you for the kind comments.

As a result of your response to our request for copy, we've doubled in size this month. Please keep your news coming.

Remember, every home and business in the parish receives a free copy so it's an ideal way of getting local news and event details to everyone.

We've had requests for a number of features for future editions, in particular a personal column, swap shop and small ads. We're working on all these but are happy to go ahead with the personal column straight away. It needn't cover only 'hatches, matches and dispatches' but can also include birthdays, anniversaries, exam successes, welcomes and goodbyes - in fact just about anything. All we ask is that, when you write to us, you let us have your name and contact details.

We've been asked who's behind The Sherston Cliffhanger.

Well, the publisher is the parish council which is financing it from the precept and advertising revenue. The aim is to make it as self-financing as possible. It's produced by a team of local people which presently consists of Beryl Clampton, Lynda Fleming, Frank Hatt, Richard Maslin, Caroline Moore, Phil Moore, Paul Ormiston and Martin Rea. We'll let you know what they all do next month.

In the meantime, if you'd like to get involved in the production, editorial or distribution of The Sherston Cliffhanger please let us know.

Also, if you have an idea for a regular feature please get in touch.

We welcome your feedback, good or bad. Contact us by email at info@sherstoncliffhanger.co.uk or call 01666 841405.

Send us your news

The size and content of the Cliffhanger depends entirely on the amount of copy we receive from individuals and groups. So, if you feel you have something of interest, please don't hesitate to tell us. Copy should be delivered by the 15th of the month before the next edition by email to editorial@sherstoncliffhanger.co.uk. Paper copy can be left at Sherston Post Office Stores.

Boules beat the odds

This year's boules tournament beat the odds to make £7,500 for the Sherston area.

'Considering we lost our main sponsor and didn't run a Saturday evening event, this was a fantastic effort by all concerned,' said boules committee chairman Tony Weedon.

The £7,500 will be distributed among organisations, groups and individuals in the area.

'Boules week doesn't just happen,' said Tony. 'It results from the work of the committee and we've now lost a number of members.'

'These people gave the last four or five years to the event and, for various reasons, can't assist next year.'

'I wish to give my special thanks to all of them.'

For Boules 2009, the committee needs a secretary, treasurer, stalls' organiser, someone to organise publicity and more committee members.

'It's not an arduous task,' said Tony. 'We meet once a month from January. But, without a full committee, Boules 2009 won't happen.'

'I'm sure the majority of the village enjoys the week so please think about joining us for next year.'

Those interested and wanting more information can contact Tony on 841377.

Footpaths

The parish footpath group has been in existence for nearly six months. If you are interested in walking and wish to see local paths well used and maintained, come along to the next meeting on Wednesday 19 November at 7.30 pm in the village hall. Minutes of previous meetings can be found on the footpaths page at www.sherston.org.uk where a map of parish rights of way is also available.

Hot tip to beat the cold

Villagers have come up with a bright idea to help cushion the blow of the economic crisis.

The Sherston Fuel Club will be open to any resident using fuel oil and may also offer an advantage to commercial users.

'The basic advantage of the system is that, as a club, we'll have more buying power than we would enjoy as individuals,' said organiser Tony Towle.

'This is because we'll buy at commercial, rather than the domestic, rates most residents are currently paying.

'The more members the club has, the higher the discount will be.'

To register, people need to fill in a form available at the post office and return it to them as soon as possible. There is no joining or membership fee.

The chosen supplier will not offer a top-up service but will only supply full loads of 750 litres or more.

To keep costs down and give the club a better discount, there will be no credit.

The club will not become involved in financial dealings with members or the supplier. It will be up to individual members to settle their account with the supplier.

'The only purpose of the club is to set up the arrangements in the first place, maintain a list with the supplier of current members and negotiate the best deal on a yearly basis,' said Tony

'The forms need to be returned as soon as possible so that negotiations can be started with suppliers and we can then select our eventual winner.

'As soon as they've been selected, you'll be told their name and phone number and, from then on, you'll order in the normal way stating that you're a member of the Sherston Fuel Club.

'This will assure you a decent discount and be a win-win situation for all the members.'

Should you have any questions, contact Tony Towle on 840574.

Busy Hands Pre-school hosted a juice and cake morning in aid of Macmillan Cancer Relief in September. A good turnout by friends and family raised £47.50.

Apples & Pairs

The latest addition to Sherston's thriving business community is Apples & Pairs.

This children's shoes and clothes shop opened its doors last month in the Church Street premises previously occupied by Bear Necessities.

Hannah Allan, of Stanton St Quintin, identified the gap in the market for high quality children's footwear 18 months ago when she needed to replace her daughter's summer sandals.

'Because I couldn't find any nice shoes locally, I ended up buying two pairs from an American website for about £50,' she said. 'As well as being cheaper than I could have bought here, they were glorious.'

After a year of careful market research, Hannah opened Apples & Pairs to sell gifts, books, toys and Funky Bambini kids' clothes as well as eco-friendly and practical shoes such as wellies with pull-on handles.

'I chose Sherston because it's a large, vibrant village right at the centre of my customer base,' said Hannah. 'Although Malmesbury has a small shoe shop, parking there can be a problem. Failing that, you have to drive to Bath or Cribbs Causeway.'

So far, so good. 'I've been overjoyed with customers' response to my new shop and feel really at home in Sherston,' she said.

Recreation ground

North Wiltshire District Council has given the parish council a £4,057 grant to buy a piece of play equipment which can be used by disabled youngsters. Councillors will decide at their next meeting what type of equipment to buy and it is hoped it will be installed by early in the new year. Sherston Parish Council is most grateful for this grant.

Christmas lights

For some years, it has been clear that the parish council's Christmas lights would need to be renewed. It has become difficult to obtain replacement bulbs as they are now not considered environmentally friendly. With the help of a generous £500 grant from the Boules and Carnival Committee, it is hoped to buy low energy lights in time for the festive season.

The mystery of a sad young soldier

To mark this month's 90th anniversary of the end of the First World War, local historian Cilla Liddington considers the mystery behind a soldier's grave in Sherston churchyard.

The grave of William Cairns is a particularly poignant one.

Aged only 26, he died here, far from his Newcastle-upon-Tyne home, the day after The Armistice was signed.

Private 34983 William J Cairns was born in 1893 to Winship Scott and Rebecca. He was the oldest sibling of Ethel, Agnes, Elizabeth and Winifred.

In the 1901 census, he is shown living with his family in Elswick Street, Newcastle, where his father Winship worked as a machine worker in ordnance making shells.

Winship apparently died in 1904 aged 33. Some time after, William's mother Rebecca remarried a Frazer Cairns and, presumably as the children were all still young, they took their stepfather's surname.

During the war, William was enrolled in the Garrison Battalion of the Worcestershire Regiment which was made up of men unfit for active service.

By 1918 however, things had got so desperate at the front line that such regiments would have been combed for any man suitable to serve with the Labour Corps.

Somehow, William came to end his days in Back Street, now Cliff Road, Sherston.

The Armistice was signed in Compiègne in France at 11am on 11 November 1918. And on Tuesday 12 November, William Cairns died.

William's gravestone has the inscription 'Rest in Peace from his Sisters'. Did one of his sisters marry a Sherston man? Did he come here to recuperate after perhaps suffering gassing at the front? Are any of his family still living in Sherston? One thing we do know: his was a sad fate for a young man.

Get your own back with a gun

Take revenge on dangerous drivers with a speed gun.

The district council is making this offer to the people of five B4040 villages, including Sherston, in a bid to cut traffic speed.

Local people are being asked to monitor areas where they consider speed a problem. Their evidence will not be used to prosecute speeding drivers but will be invaluable in pin-pointing areas on which the police can concentrate most effectively.

The initiative results from consultation with Malmesbury parishes about 'sticky' issues which have apparently not been resolved. Rural traffic, especially speed, came up repeatedly.

The district council's pilot area board for Malmesbury, set up to help pave the way for the new unitary authority next year, has agreed to supply locals with the speed guns.

The police will train people to use them and give health and safety advice.

The council's area board also intends to tackle the problem of non-local HGVs using roads as 'rat runs'.

The speed gun scheme needs your help to be successful so, if you are one of the many who have complained about traffic speed, now is your chance to do something about it.

To get involved, call Viv Vines on 01249 890759.

Remember, remember the eighth of November!

Don't forget: Sherston's bonfire and fireworks extravaganza is on Saturday 8 November.

Organised by Sherston 1016, it is held on land generously lent each year by the Hillier family at Lower Farm.

Members of Sherston 1016 have attended specialist courses on fireworks and public safety and pride themselves on preparing to a high standard. This year, there will be increased stewarding and a first aid post.

The event starts at 6.30pm and there will be a barbecue and hot and cold drinks on sale.

Please wear sensible footwear, preferably wellingtons. And wear older clothes in case you spill tomato ketchup down your front. It's not a high-fashion event and, after all, you'll be in a farmer's field!

Sparklers are not permitted for safety reasons but safe light-ropes will be on sale.

Entrance remains £5 per adult and £3 per child on the gate. An advance family ticket for two adults and three children costs £12 from Sherston Post Office.

If you can spare a few hours to help set up the field during daylight on Saturday 8 November, please phone 01666 840728 (daytime) or 840112.

Combustible material should be taken to the site during the previous week and put over the wall into the bonfire field which is on the right as you approach the farm buildings.

Rattlebone boules league 2008

Another season of fun and games at the Rattlebone is over.

There have been winners and losers, laughter and curses, hand-wringing and gnashing of teeth. But, overall, 32 teams in two leagues have enjoyed themselves and met new friends.

Improbable as it may sound, a tiny handful have even improved their standard of play.

The main purpose of the league is to have fun and meet new people. So, in order to mix it all up, next year the bottom eight teams in League 1 will be demoted to League 2 and the top eight in League 2 promoted to League 1.

This year's honours in League 1 went to:

1st KP And Her Nuts, led by Karen Wright (all the way from Bristol)

2nd John & Gwen Knight's Chevaliers
(who surrendered their top spot in the very last game)

3rd Hector (Jock) Walker and his team The Hoose
(The multi-talented Jock also won the inaugural conkers competition at the Rattlebone and the annual mangold hurl. Sickening, isn't it?)

League 2:

1st Terry Moulder's Three Musketeers.

2nd Les Gros Legumes, captained by Shaun Scott

3rd Neil Forster and his team The Legionnaires.

There will be a grand prize-giving and buffet in January to which all who played in the competition are invited. The main prizes will be for the highly skilful, but more probably lucky, teams above. In addition, there will be booby prizes for which Jason is a contender.

If you would like to join us, either as an individual or as a team, please get in touch. As a player in one of our boules leagues, you will take part in a highly sociable pastime which can be taken as seriously as you wish and you will meet new people and have fun. More than 100 people are involved in the two leagues. They enjoy exciting games in pleasant company on, sometimes, sunny summer evenings with the odd glass of wine thrown in. For further information contact Tony Towle on 840574.
